Erika and her partner Matt Dilling, have created a life together that strives for conscious awareness and gratitude for nature and the divine in all they do. In 2015 they started Let It Shine Workshops, a series of interdisciplinary workshops that take place on their property in Upstate New York on or near the solstices. Their workshops and creative practices are fundamentally inspired by the teaching and learning experiences fostered at Black Mountain College. These workshops have transformed into a brick and mortar space in Kingston, NY to open spring 2018.
